An overview of Air-Conditioned Bus Tours:

Who doesn't like vacations with ultimate relaxation preferences? The type of vacation a person takes depends upon individual desires. Most folks like to be wined-n-dined and pampered as if they've snuck into the 1/10 of 1% demographic. A few eccentrics prefer different vacations. This is their story.

David G. Swanson is a writer of missives in both the non-fictional and fictional realm including essays, short stories, novel-length adventures and the occasional bathroom-stall words of wisdom. Local readers will have enjoyed many of his essays published in The Silverton Standard over the years. David’s book, “Silverton Style, Volume 0: The Kid Years” is a collection of funny and nostalgic pieces about his Silverton childhood. Rebekah says, “Of utmost importance in teaching students, is to ensure they have a strong technical foundation. This will, among many things, ensure they love the tone they produce, as well as greatly reduce the threat of physical injury, ensuring years of happy playing. I accomplish this by combining the methods of Suzuki, Paul Rolland, and Mimi Zweig, making the process fun and rewarding for the student. However, as each student learns and reacts differently, I believe it is important to remain flexible in my approach and find what works best for each individual. Additionally, holding regular group classes is an important element to my studio. These classes help students interact and collaborate with one another, while learning music theory, aural training, and note reading, along with a bit of healthy competition.”

Artist Judith Graham Presents "What is Art?"

(Literary and Publishing, Performing Arts, Visual Arts & Crafts)

Description: The Silverton Powerhouse Collective Speaker Series presents: Judith Graham, "What is Art?". Join Judith Graham, MFA, for a presentation and exploration of art, and what we consider the bounds of art to be.

For 33 years Judith Graham has lived in and painted the geological features which dominate Southwestern Colorado, especially the shapes and colors of the Rio Grande River drainage and the San Juan Mountains. Her paintings communicate a deep connection with place and how one exists and moves about in wild places, particularly those on the tundra, above timberline. She has spent a lifetime in pursuit of the most genuine distillation of ideas as they can be expressed in the visual language of color and shape with paint on canvas.

Judith Graham attended the School of Visual Arts and Parsons School of Design in New York, but received her M.F.A. from the University of Chicago because the broader intellectual and cultural context of visual ideas was important to her. Judith Graham has had one-person exhibitions in the United States and has created site-specific commissions of up to 30' in various cities.

Artist Jon Bailey Exhibit and Short Film

(Visual Arts & Crafts, Performing Arts, Film & Media)

Description: The Silverton Powerhouse Collective presents an exhibit and reception for Durango artist Jon Bailey. A number of Bailey’s works will be shown, including a short film about dance, “Reverence”, that will be shown after dark.

Jonathan S Bailey has been living and creating art in Durango for almost twenty years. Dedicated to making tiny revolutions, Bailey follows the lines of time with as much human-powered travel as possible. Inspired by nature’s patterns and the ecology that makes up the natural world, the artist’s work acts as a reflection of these observations.

Some of Bailey’s educational experiences include the study of fine arts at Kent State University in Kent, OH, Eagle Scout rank in the BSA Troop 380 Akron, the Art of Bicycle Maintenance and bicycle recycling at Durango Cyclery, the teachings of ecological design by Tony Brown at The ECOSA Institute in Prescott, and as much creative adventure as possible between here and there.

Jon Bailey’s artist outlets include, but are not limited to illustration, graphic design, event creation, art direction, photography, video production, dance, music and cycling.
